Business: The group's principal activity is to design and manufacture passive rf and microwave components for industry, government and science. The group's operations are conducted primarily through two segments: electronic components and microwave micro-circuitry. The electronic components segment designs, manufactures and sells electronic component devices offering extremely broad frequency coverage and high performance characteristics. The microwave micro-circuitry segment designs, manufactures and sells microstrip, bonded stripline and thick metal-backed teflon (R) (ptfe) and mixed dielectric multilayer circuits. These products are used for communications, defense and aerospace applications. The group's customers are primarily major industrial corporations that integrate the group's products into a wide variety of defense and commercial systems.

Business: The group's principal activity is to operate as regional air carriers providing scheduled passenger and airfreight services. It also carries freight and express packages and has contract with U.S. Postal service for carriage of mail. The group also has code share agreements with America west, midwest express airlines, frontier airlines and us airways. These code-share agreements allow use of the code-share partner's reservation system and flight designator code to identify flights and fares in computer reservation systems, permit use of logos, service marks, aircraft paint schemes and uniforms similar to the code-share partners and provide coordinated schedules and joint advertising. The group serves 163 cities in 40 states, the district of columbia, Canada and Mexico. As of 30-Sep-2003, the group operated a fleet of 150 aircraft and had approximately 943 daily departures. On 19-Dec-2003, it acquired assets of midway airlines corporation.
